

There are some words we say that end with the letters e-t but the sound we make is /ay/. These are French words that we use in English. In French, letters represent different sounds than they do in English.

ballet

Professional ballet dancers practice for hours a day.

beret

Upon his head, his hair now cut short, he wears a black beret.

bouquet

The kids picked wildflowers to make a beautiful bouquet for their teacher.

buffet

The buffet lunch will be served before the show.

cabaret

Cabaret is a form of theater entertainment that involves music, dance, and drama.

chalet

We'll ski during the day and snuggle up in the chalet during the evening.

crochet

My grandma taught me how to crochet a blanket.

duvet

The duvet on my bed is too warm for summer weather.

ricochet

The ball will ricochet off the goalie's foot and go into the net.

Handwriting practice lines consisting of solid top and bottom lines with a dashed middle line. There are ten sets of these lines, each corresponding to one of the images on the left.