

We know that i-n-g says /ing/ like ring.

This is called a nasal sound.
Feel your nose!

Do you feel the weird
thing your mouth is
doing with the n-g?

Foundations
for Literacy

ring

Foundations
for Literacy

wing

Foundations
for Literacy

sing

ding

Foundations
for Literacy

king

Foundations
for Literacy

bring

Foundations
for Literacy

swing

Foundations
for Literacy

thing

Foundations
for Literacy

sting

Foundations
for Literacy

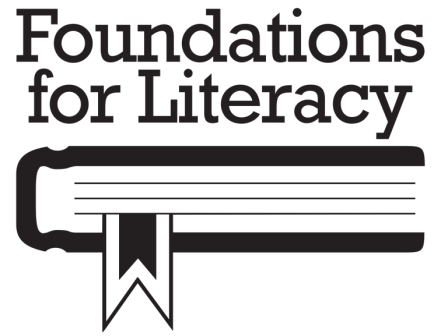

string

We know that i-n-k says /ink/ like wink.

This is called a nasal sound.
Feel your nose!

Do you feel the weird
thing your mouth is
doing with the n-k?

Foundations
for Literacy

wink

Foundations
for Literacy

sink

Foundations
for Literacy

pink

Foundations
for Literacy

kink

Foundations
for Literacy

rink

drink

Foundations
for Literacy

clink

Foundations
for Literacy

blink

Foundations
for Literacy

stink

Foundations
for Literacy

shrink

Other vowels can be with -ng & -nk, too.

sang

honk

rang

chunk

clang

Foundations
for Literacy

thank

stung

Foundations
for Literacy

bringing

Foundations
for Literacy

trunk

~~w~~rong

crank

shrinking

King Kong

Foundations
for Literacy

thankful

longing

Foundations
for Literacy

banking

Foundations
for Literacy

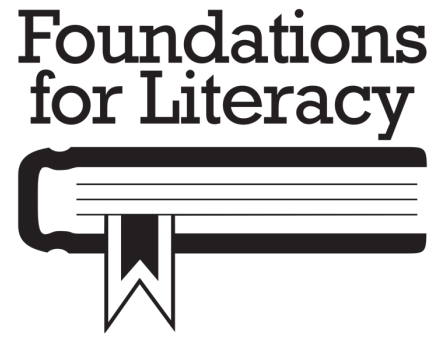

wrinkle

spangled

chunks

twinkling